CLIMATE & ECONOMICS

Green Horizon Hold is located in the Northeast corner of Dorado's territories where a small peninsula creates a natural harbor. The surrounding vegetation is thick with jungle and what's been cultivated is very carefully protected. The weather is tropical with constant brief showers most of the Turn.

Other than the cots that support Green Horizon and tithe to Dorado, Green Horizon's main industry revolves around supplying and shipping the hard to find medicinal plants they grow as well as harvesting from the neighboring jungle growth.

It has a growing industry in the production of fragrant items, such as soaps, powders, perfumes, and oils.

GENERAL INFORMATION

Green Horizon Hold is a fairly young hold. It was pioneered by an uncle of Lord Kairo, only to have it fall under disarray when the current Holder and his only son were lost at sea. The holding was then given to Lord Kairo's brother Eglise to revive. Having spent most of his life managing Green Horizon Hold, it is now a self-sufficient holding of some profit.

The hold is made up of mostly small buildings and gardens sporadically placed over a wide area only partially cleared of jungle growth. There is a main kitchen and eating shelter close to the beach with a string of small buildings nearby reserved for visitors. The only other large building at Green Horizon is further back from the shore and reserved for the hold family, meeting rooms, and the main stores.

There's a small dock which is strictly reserved for the transport of hold goods, although any ship is allowed to set anchor inside the natural harbor and are welcomed into the hold for a night free of charge. Not much fishing actually occurs by the hold itself as it relies on its surplus of heardbeasts and crops from the cots within Green Horizon's management.

SPECIAL ATTRACTIONS

The natural harbor that runs along Green Horizon Hold is the perfect place for seamen to make anchor and conduct any minor repairs that might be needed. The hold is friendly to all travelers and charges no fee for the one night stay.

SPECIAL EVENTS

Once each winter, the locals gather for what they call the picking gather -although no actual picking occurs, to share newly discovered oils, fragrances, remedies and plants. A large amount of local trading occurs at this time and the gather is usually in high attendance of both seamen and healers.
