GENERAL INFORMATION

The Southern Harper Hall is located at Cove Hold in Eastern Weyr territory. Little needs to be said about this craft as it has already been very well described in the books. However, for the record, it should be noted that playing instruments at a gather is the least of the duties of a harper.

The Harper Hall's primary function is the gathering and distributing of information. From teaching the children to skillfully gathering rumors and spreading whichever information the Masterharper desires to be spread, the Harper Hall can truly be said to have its finger in every pie.

A journeying harper is a valued member of each major Hold, as he travels to all of the minor holds and coholds in the Lord's territory. As well as gathering and spreading news, and teaching the children their Teaching Songs, the journeyman also keeps track of births, marriages and deaths for the Lord Holder's Records. A highly trained memory is a key skill for a harper, as well as learning to differentiate between idle gossip and true fact.

IMPORTANT PEOPLE

MasterHarper Forelen: Forelen is young for his position, hardly into his thirtieth Turn. He's an attractive man, tall and slim, yet not bony. While not blatantly muscle-bound, his muscles are well-developed and he's quite strong. If the Pernese knew of angels, they'd swear his voice came straight from heaven and though his instrumental skills are not of the highest level, the deftness with which he guides the Southern Continent is to be greatly admired. He has dark brown hair with deep red highlights and a pair of blue eyes you could drown yourself in. (Persona of Tevye Machat)
