Puamana is an outpost of the Lahaina Dolphincraft Hall, located at Kadanzer Weyr as part of the dolphincraft's tithe to the Weyr. A small group of journeyman dolphineers are assigned to carry out basic duties such as teaching swimming, pregnancy testing and other monitoring, etc.

Facilities:

The dolphincraft outpost at the Weyr consists of a large central greatroom, with two equipment storage rooms at the end of the hall. The dolphineers are housed in individual cots at Main and share their meals with the rest of the Weyr population at the Weyrhall; support staff are provided by Headwoman Raecliffe.

The dolphincraft and seacraft are interconnected; there are times when the dolphincraft calls on the seacrafters for aid, while all dolphineers are trained in basic seaworthiness and can lend their skills to the seacrafters when requested. As a result of this close association, the dolphincraft greatroom is located adjacent to the Harbormaster's facility. The dolphineers have an agreement with the seacraft for the use of small boats and other facilities as necessary. They have a small wharf in the upstream area of the Weyr's harbor from which they conduct their activities and tend to the dolphin's health needs.

Staffing:

The crafthall is a small working outpost and consists of the following staff:

- Journeyman Dolphineer Killian and his partner Maile are the leaders of the group.
- Journeyman Dolphinhealer Miralynn and her partner Nerissa
- Journeyman Dolphin-assisted healer Trileigh and her partner Lyn
- Journeyman Dolphineer Decker and his partner Rosmer
- Journeyman Dolphineer Evin and his partner Misu

There are no apprentices at Puamana Hall; this is a working craft outpost, and all apprentices are trained at the dolphineer crafthall at Lahaina.

The purpose of Puamana Dolphincraft Hall:

All dolphineers at the Weyr are trained in the basics of the craft. Sailing, fishing, search & rescue, salvage, basic healing, dolphin health. Killian, Decker and Evin can all work on search & rescue or salvage should it be needed. The women assist each other with their specialties as well as regular dolphineer tasks. These crafters were chosen for their maturity, their understanding of how important it is to Lahaina for them to present the craft well, and for their skills. They are also generally broadminded like most of the folks at Lahaina, and dolphineers with anti-Weyr prejudices will not be stationed at Puamana.
